Now's your chance!
He's not a cheap hitman.
Anna... he's using a competition automatic and wearing a noctoscope.
This commission... the roots are deep. Investigate it for me!

It's my grandson... his name was Akio and he was five...
チャ

I became his foster parent and raised him. His body was weak and he was always having asthma attacks.
My son and his wife died in a car accident.
I called for an ambu-lance ...
That night, he had an attack more violent than normal and began to suffer.
That's what should have hap-pened.
He should have arrived at the emergency hospital in no more than twenty minutes... if he'd received ap-propriate treatment there, he would have gotten healthy as usual.

What is that?!
A beast appeared there!

up until the end ...
Whilst emitting a shrill sound, that motorcyle was zigzagging and continued to obstruct the ambulance's route...

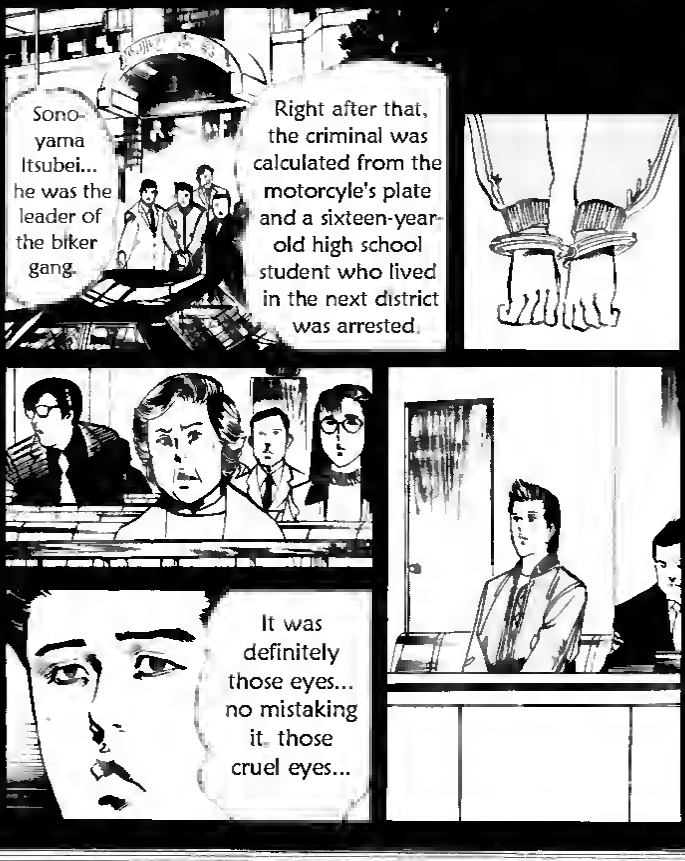
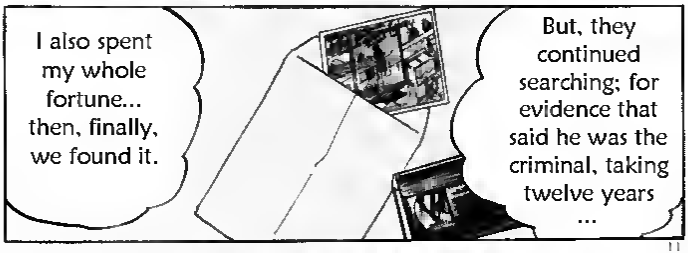
VOOOM!

Akio?!
Akio!
Breathe!
It's too late, fool.
That boy's eyes... I can't forget them, even though it's been twelve years since then.
didn't make it in time.
Akio ...

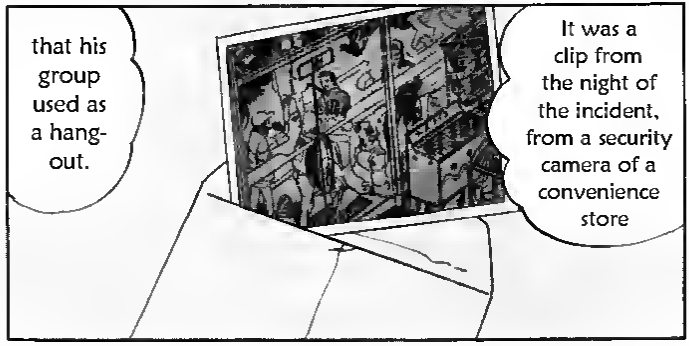


Sono-yama Itsubei... he was the leader of the biker gang.
Right after that, the criminal was calculated from the motorcyle's plate and a sixteen-year-old high school student who lived in the next district was arrested.
It was definitely those eyes... no mistaking it. those cruel eyes...
Evidence that said he had been in Tokyo the night of the incident, and that his motorcycle had been stolen before then.
But, even though the trial had proceeded considerably, new evidence suddenly turned up.

He was found not guilty.
The evidence that had come forth successively until then only said that he'd been playing a game called "ambulance hunting"...
I thought, "there's no way."



I also spent my whole fortune... then, finally, we found it.
But, they continued searching; for evidence that said he was the criminal, taking twelve years ...



that his group used as a hang-out.
It was a clip from the night of the incident, from a security camera of a convenience store the very next day, the tapes were switched and it was left.

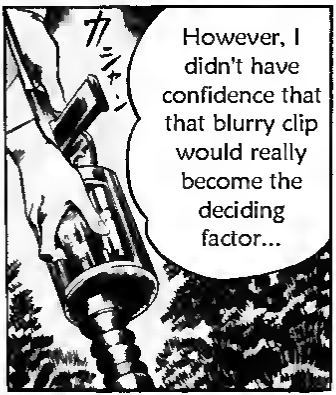
After a fixed term elapsed, it was re-corded over and deleted, but...

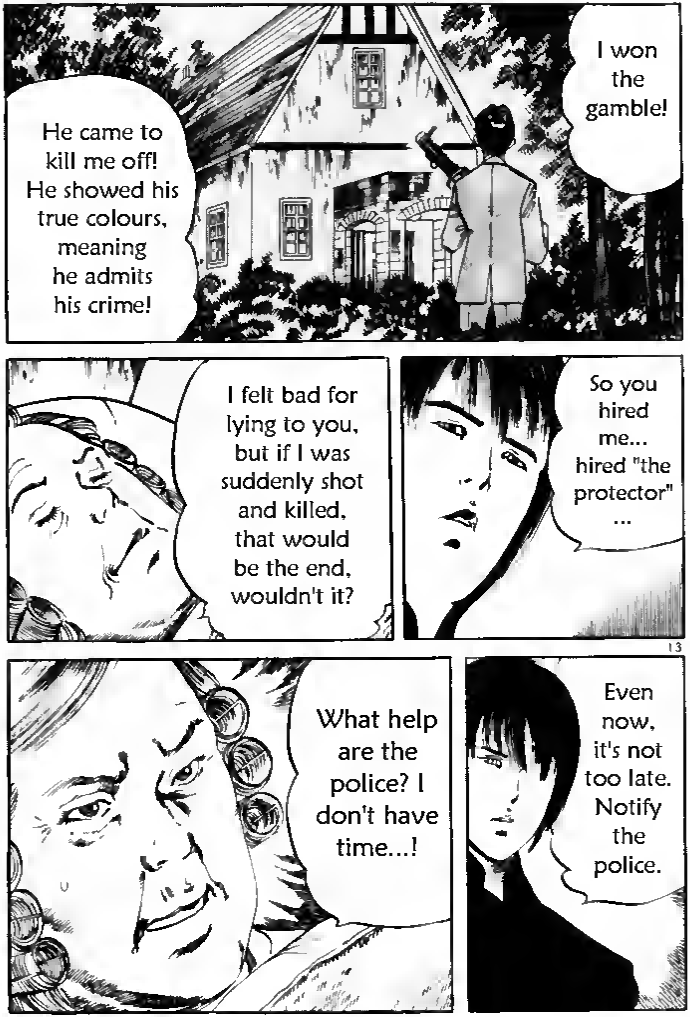
Akio's spirit wanted me to find it and left it for me!
Twelve years... don't you think it's a miracle that a tape that old would be left in the corner of a warehouse?

12

So I gam-bled.
I at-tached and sent one print!



However, I didn't have confidence that that blurry clip would really become the deciding factor...



I won the gamble!
He came to kill me off! He showed his true colours, meaning he admits his crime!
I felt bad for lying to you, but if I was suddenly shot and killed, that would be the end, wouldn't it?
So you hired me... hired "the protector" ...

What help are the police? I don't have time...!
Even now, it's not too late. Notify the police.

He really gave his name as Tate?!
Aisora Teaching Hospital, Aisora City
Really, Sawatari-sensei! The emergency ward is in an uproar...

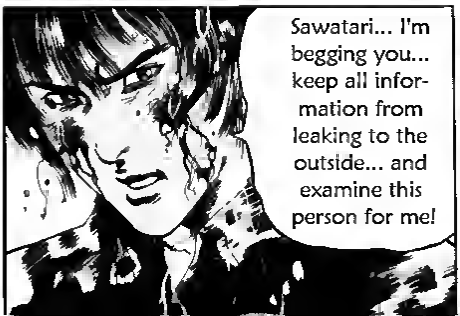
Make way!



Sawatari... I'm begging you... keep all information from leaking to the outside... and examine this person for me!

Ta... Tate ...!?

Tate——!
Hurry with a stretcher!

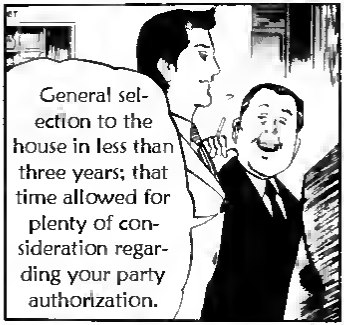
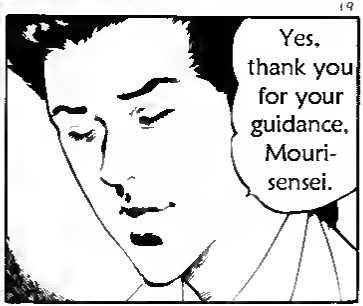
I was relieved to see a smart and agreeable youth who resembles his father.
When I heard there was a young person like Sonoyama-kun, our Mouri party beat arteriosclerosis, too.



General selection to the house in less than three years; that time allowed for plenty of consideration regarding your party authorization.



Yes, thank you for your guidance, Mouri-sensei.

My deepest apologies, Itsubei-sama...
Hishinuma huh, I heard you failed.
You're a shameful person. What difficulty did you run into even though you only had to deal with the hag?
Tsujino Sayako has hired the master protector known as "Aegis".

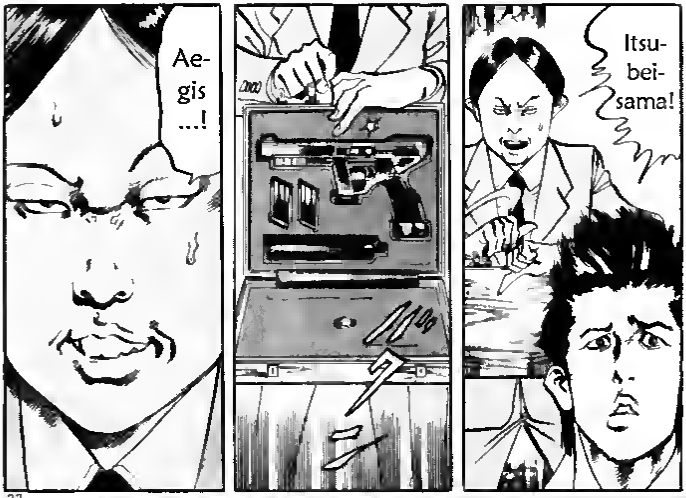
So what, that's not the information I want to hear.

Don't fail me this time. You think I'd let someone interfere with my glorious future now, over a petty game from over twelve years in the past?



Aegis...!
Itsubei-sama!
